All About Me Puzzle

As we continue our study about “All about me/Feelings,” we discuss the different facial expressions that come with feelings. The Angelfish friends are using their social/emotional skills as they make different faces on the “All About Me” puzzle. They are also using language skills to describe what face the puzzle was making.

Mirror Me

In these pictures, our Angelfish friends are designing their own mirrors. They are decorating their mirrors with items that represent them. They are using fine motor skills with the glue brush and picking up items to place on their art work.

Learning Important Self Help Skills

In this activity, our Angelfish friends are using self-help mats to practice how to open and close different fasteners such as buttons and buckles. This activity gives the children an opportunity to practice self-help skills which they will use throughout their lives.
